YANGAROO Online System Entry Process and Payment Information

WHERE TO GO TO SUBMIT ENTRIES AND SIGN UP TO JUDGE!

Go to daytimeemmys.dmds.com to access the YANGAROO system for Daytime Emmy entry and judge registration.

Technical Support: Most people will find the entry system intuitive, however if you have any problems, don't hesitate to contact the YANGAROO support team at emmysupport@yangaroo.com or call Toll Free: 1.866.992.9902.
Rules and Categories Questions: If you need guidance concerning the Rules and Categories contact the Daytime Administration at daytime@emmyonline.tv or call 212-586-8426.

Here is a short guide for shows and independent submitters with general system information and instruction.

GETTING STARTED:

If you are new to Daytime, you will need to select SIGN UP NOW and create a User Profile. If you are a returning submitter or judge, you can access your Profile from last year by logging in (or select Forgot Password to retrieve your information). Please update your Profile if and where necessary. Once logged in to your dashboard, this is your "base camp" where you can view the Daytime Calendar, a Video Specifications Document, Submit Entries, Register to Judge or sign up others from your production team to judge.

SUBMITTING AN ENTRY:

Select CREATE NEW SUBMISSION. The YANGAROO online entry system will prompt you to select the category you wish to enter and move through several pages to complete required fields and enter entrant team member information.

During the entry period, you may save, leave and return to a draft entry as needed and finalize by or before the deadline.

Many programs and networks appear for selection in drop-down lists. If you do not see your program or network, simply select NOT ON LIST and type it in to the field.

When entering a program, besides the Program category, there are often additional related Craft categories you can submit. If you are unsure which associated categories you can enter, refer to the ASSOCIATED CATEGORIES grid, found on the Dashboard or contact the Daytime Administration for assistance. Once you have submitted your Program to a program category you will see a suggested list of craft categories on the summary page to help you choose correctly.

ENTRANT TEAM MEMBERS (CREDITS):

Please be sure to enter each submission's entrant team members (with correct case and spelling!) in the exact order they should be displayed in any future official documents such as press releases, print programs and archive.

Standard eligible credit titles appear for selection in a drop-down list. In certain categories there may be significant creative contributors to a submission who do not have a standard title. You may add a non-eligible title by selecting NOT ON LIST and typing it in to the field, however that title will be flagged for review and approval.

Many Daytime categories (both programs and crafts) are team awards for a Series, which means that for a person to be eligible to be listed, they must have worked a certain percentage of the total number of episodes that aired in the 2017 Calendar Year. The total number of episodes should be recorded early in the submission form. As you add team members you will need to record the number of episodes an individual worked. The system calculates greater than 19% or 40% (depending on the category) and allows that person to be added. In certain instances an individual may be eligible and under contract for the season or the year, and that will override any percentage rules. Check this Submission Guide for details in any category.

The entrant team member form will auto populate the contact information of the Entrant (the person preparing the submission) however this may be replaced with individualized team member information by directly typing over.

NOTE: You may retain Entrant contact information, however the onus will be on that person to relay any future pertinent submission, nomination or ceremony notifications to those entrant team members.

MEDIA UPLOAD:

You can upload video files or any other required media directly into the submission. NOTE: You may need to ask your Show or Studio IT Department for assistance of if there are any firewalls or systems in place that prevent you from uploading files. Don't hesitate to reach out to the YANGAROO Technical Support team also to help facilitate the process.

The YANGAROO dashboard includes a link to a document outlining standard and accepted media file formats required to upload to a submission. Upload video files on the Assign Files to Submissions page. On that page there is a link to download the free Aspera program required to facilitate high speed transfer of media files. If you have a post-production entity handling the media upload process, please share your log-in information. Shortly after your upload is complete, you will receive notification that your submitted video has been encoded and is ready for review and approval. Be sure to check your entire submission for optimal A/V quality before it is presented to the judging platform. If you are using the same video file across multiple categories (in categories where the submission requirements are the same), upload the file once only and assign it to those categories. NOTE: We strongly recommend when submitting for visual and audio craft categories that a supervising editor or audio mixer review video and audio quality after the video has been encoded to ensure it represents the best quality for the judges.

SUBMISSION DEADLINES:

There is an Early Submission Deadline of November 21, 2017 with lower entry fees across all categories. The Final Submission Deadline is December 20, 2017 and Video Upload must be completed by or before this date. See more detail on the next pages.

NOTE: For programs or performances that are scheduled to air between December 20th and December 31st, the video upload deadline will be extended by or before Friday, January 5, 2018.

REGISTERING TO JUDGE:

If you are new to Daytime, you can register for judging by selecting BECOME A JUDGE on the homepage or from the Dashboard if you have already logged in. Returning judges can select BECOME A JUDGE or FORGOT PASSWORD to access and update a Judging Profile and to Register for the current Emmy® Award season. You can also sign up others from your Production Teams for judging by selecting SIGN UP AN EMMY® JUDGE. All applications for judging will be reviewed by the Daytime Administration.

ENTRY PAYMENT INFORMATION

ENTRY FEES:

A performer may submit themselves if the program or network does not. In this instance, the performer should check with the show before submitting to obtain video and avoid entry duplication.

Be sure to include only the performance sequences in the submission rather than an entire episode. If this is not possible, provide time code for when the performance sequences begin. Include any necessary lead in or plot summary text in the entry form. It will appear on the ballot as reference for judges.

NOTE: This category will be judged by a live performer panel in Los Angeles.

SUBMISSION DETAIL:

Please include a 2-3 second identifying head shot of the performer, or in the case of a puppeteer, an image of the character. Insert 2-3 seconds of black between scenes. Slate "end of reel" at the end of the submission.
If necessary, please provide an on-screen graphic during scenes to aid judges in identifying the character being evaluated, especially if multiple characters are interacting. Be sure to include only the performance sequences in the submission rather than an entire episode or program, or provide time code in the Information and Essay field for when the performance sequences begin.
- You may include any necessary lead in or plot summary text in the entry form which will appear on the ballot as reference for judges and include any special character or technical descriptions as a guide for judges. Text up to 200 words will appear on the online judging ballot as an accompaniment to the viewing material. Please keep text informational and not promotional and ensure that text is coherent and correct in both spelling and grammar. If an individual voices multiple characters on an episode, they may include all characters in the submission, however all characters should be clearly identified on-screen and all character names must be included on the entry form. An individual may enter multiple submissions in this category but only if the achievements are for different programs.

In the case of a single character being played by more than one performer (eg. a speaking voice and a singing voice), prepare a single entry but be sure to add each performer to the entry form.

A performer may submit themselves if the program or network does not. In this instance, the performer should check with the show before submitting to obtain video and avoid entry duplication.

CATEGORY 63 - Outstanding Individual Achievement in Animation

(For a Single Episode of a Series, or Special)

The Emmy® award[s] for Individual Achievement in Animation recognizes individual excellence. Team entries are not allowed. An individual may enter multiple achievements if the achievements are for different programs.

NOTE: This category differs from other Daytime Emmy® animation categories. 1) It requires the preparation and sending of hard-copy material, (eg. Artwork and in most cases a Video File) corresponding to the work you are submitting. All other animation categories require video file uploading to the Daytime entry system. Do not upload video files for this category. 2) It is a Juried award. A panel of judges composed of qualified animation judges, determine the Emmy® worthiness of submissions in each of the areas of expertise detailed below. 3) There can be one, more than one, or no recipients. Multiple recipients, however, are recognized independently.

Artwork must be originally created for the submitted episode, and no stock will be accepted unless it was created specifically for the submitted episode and first aired in the 2017 Calendar year. Artwork which was previously submitted in a prior awards year is not eligible. Please see additional note under Background Design.

Materials submitted should best represent the artist's creative process and finished artwork. Additional supporting artwork may be submitted to show the artist's thought process in achieving their final work.

If possible, artwork should be signed by the artist and director or producer. The purpose of the signatures is to ensure that the artist, director and/or producer are aware that the entry is being made and that the correct entry materials are being submitted.
